Business Challenge

rapidLD is a professional services and consulting partnership developed to help organizations improve their business performance with comprehensive learning and talent management solutions.

To continue to offer best-in-class services and solve the challenges of its clients, rapidLD needs the support of a learning and talent platform that can keep up with customer demands, industry directions and marketplace trends.

How SumTotal® Helped

Leveraging and relying on the strength of SumTotal's SaaS offering for Learning and Talent Management, rapidLD consulting teams can focus their consulting efforts on solving key strategic issues.

rapidLD helps clients use SumTotal to support processes that enable learning measurement, governance, and performance improvement.

rapidLD's development teams utilize SumTotal's APIs to build software applications, such as rapidRoster, that provide powerful solutions focused on high volume workflow needs.

Offering SumTotal-based software applications enables rapidLD to expand its customer base by introducing its consulting services to potential clients.
