

Ready for a new approach to LMS reporting? With advanced and flexible solutions from SumTotal, you can quickly enhance your reporting capabilities to cut development cost and effort.

Choose from numerous report options that go above and beyond typical “out-of-the-box” alternatives. SumTotal gives you packages, prices, and configurations that suit your business environment, so you can substantially reduce expenses while generating fast, accurate reports.

Flexible package options cover a range of reporting needs

Offering instant access to 33 downloadable reports, our cost-effective solutions let you meet your reporting needs without additional staffing or extensive training on new reporting tools. Build your report library instantly—for less than the cost of a single custom report.

To address specific concerns, you can purchase reports a la carte in groups of five, 10, 15, or 20. Or select from pre-defined bundles for added cost-efficiency. Choose from four distinct categories according to your overall business needs:

- Registration bundle
In this bundle, you'll gain access to reports focusing on activity registrations, cancellations, and information about continuing education progress
- Certifications bundle
These reports center on analyses related to certification compliance, violations, expirations, and exceptions

- E-commerce bundle
For companies conducting online transactions, these reports focus on training expenses, invoices, and other associated costs
- Miscellaneous bundle
Have a diverse set of reporting needs? This bundle features reports related to required skill and assessment analysis, evaluations, utilization statistics, and vendors

Custom reports and consultations provide additional focus on your unique requirements

Need to address more specific business demands? SumTotal offers custom report assistance to help you tackle more complex implementations. And, should you need additional assistance identifying your reporting needs, we can conduct on-site or remote consultations. Simply contact your Account Executive/Manager for more information and an estimate.